MEYER ZAFFRON'S BARN BURNED.

About 2.30 a. m. Friday morning the Junk barn of Meyer Zaffron, Junk dealer, of East Main street burned to the ground. The fire had a good start when it was first discovered, and the alarm given The Smethport Hose Company responded promptly and no doubt saved the nearby buildings but was unable to save the barn and contents. Mr. Zaffron had driven in during the evening on a flat tire with a load of hides, and it is thought the fire started from an overheated engine. The truck was destroyed. Fortunately his cattle were in the pasture. The loss is only partially covered by insurance.

HARRIET JONES HAS POSITION IN ATLANTIC CITY.

Harriet Jones will leave Saturday for Atlantic City where she has a position as teacher of playground work, during the summer months.

Miss Jones is a Normal graduate and has taught the second grade here two years, where she has been very successful in her work.

UNLUCKY FRIDAY.

Friday, May 26th, was an unlucky day in Smethport. Between midnight Thursday and midnight Friday three accidents and a fire occurred. Meyer Zaffron's barn and contents burned, Friday morning. Dr. Alvie Livermore broke his hand while running to the fire. Friday afternoon John Cunningham broke his shoulder, and Friday evening Mrs. Wm. Becker was run over by an automobile.

GOOD ATTENDNCE.

In the eighth grade of the Smethport schools, but three young men have perfect attendance mark, that is were neither late or tardy in their attendance.

These were Clarence Schleif, Edward Means and John Comes. This is perfect record and one that all pupils should emulate. The boy who is prompt in attendance at school will usually be prompt in business matters.

JOHN CUNNINGHAM BREAKS SHOULDER.

John Cunningham of Rose Hill avenue broke his shoulder on Friday afternoon when he fell from a box car at the acetone factory. Mr. Cunningham had been ill for two weeks, and only recently returned to work when this accident befell him. Dr. Hamilton is caring for the case. He is getting on as well as could be expected.

CHAUFFEUR KILLED

Charles C. Sickler, 31 years old, 124 Summer street, a well-known Bradford chauffeur, formerly of Buffalo, was instantly killed Saturday night when a car owned by his employer, Charles H. Corwin, turned turtle on the Corydon street extension near the Nusbaum Chemical works. Four other men, Richard Hartburg, Louis Cattoni, James Fedeaux and Carl Witchen, who were riding with Mr. Sikler, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury.

MARKS-STUDLEY.

Prof. Laurence W. Marks of Kasson, Pa., and Gladys E. Studley of Hazelhurst, Pa., were quietly married by Rev. Williamson at Olean, N. Y., May 6th, 1922. The Bride was a bookkeeper at Kane, Pa. The groom has been principal of Hazelhurst High Schools for the past six years. Prof Marks expects to resume his studies at State College where he has been studying for a couple of summers.

The Miner extends its hearty congratulations.

HAD HAND BROKEN.

During the fire at Zaffrons barn Friday morning Dr. Livermore was running to the scene of the fire he accidently stepped in a hole and fell his weight coming onto his right hand, fracturing the bones between the thumb and the knuckle. The injured member was promptly dressed, and while painful, is now doing as well as could be expected and in a few weeks will be strong enough again to grasp molars of all kinds and sizes and yank them out easily and without much pain—to him.

Memorial Day Observed in Smethport.

The Weather was Fine and the People Attentive American Legion in Line with but Six G. A. R. In Line.

Memorial Day 1922 opened auspiciously, the sun shone forth with effulgent beauty and gilded the green foliage.

All roads seemed to lead to Smethport and ere the noon hour a line of autoes marked the street sides along Main street. Hotels and restaurants were crowded at noon by hungry men all eager for something to satisfy the inner man.

Promptly at 1:30 Marshal W. A. Ostrander and the band appeared in the band stand and ranks were formed and the six old soldiers of the Civil war were loaded into autos and the line of march taken up down Main Street stopping at the American Legion Headquarters where the Legion fell in line with about 300 children of the Public Schools, each of whom carried a small American Flag. The procession then moved out Nelson to the cemetery, where the six soldiers of the war of 1861-65 paid the last floral homage to their departed comrades. Many of whom were sleeping the dreamless sleep in the cemetery where so few comrades were left to see that flowers were scattered over their graves.

After their services Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read by Professor Stanley Bright, followed by an address by Hon. P. H. Dewey. His address was a very able one and was well received by all present.

Then followed the American Legion exercises at the grave of Comrade Keith Pratt, the salute to the fallen comrades and taps.

After the benediction by Rev. Arthur Gregson the strewing of natures choicest flowers was commenced and was continued with lavish hands until every grave of a fallen hero was beautifully decorated and then the line of march took up its course for the court house where it was dismissed.

The house decorations along Main street were fine. Old Glory floated on the breeze from all business houses and from very many of the residences. Poppies were largely in evidence. Scarcely a man or woman was in the parade but wore one and many autos were decorated with them and many autoes came in handsomely decorated with wild flowers.

The surviving members of the G. A. R. Post are H. L. Burlingame, E. R. Mayo, J. C. Cunningham, Emil Thomm, H. M. Choate, George W. King and A. W. Colegrove. The natural sadness of the day to six of these seven men was added to the fact, that one of their number, Captain E. R. Mayo, was a patient in a hospital in Buffalo and each one uttered a silent prayer for his speedy recovery and his return to his home.

And thus passed into history Memorial Day, 1922, and when Memorial day comes next year there will be new graves to care for. More markers will be floating from the graves in the cemeteries of the country, and the boys and girls will then, as now, be learning the lesson of Patriotism of religious devotion to the dead, of the love of the Flag, from those who survive.

ECHOES FROM THE CARNIVAL.

Mrs. Thomas Camp was a live-wire of the Carnival—anything needed she supplied—if she could not find it in her attic she loaned it from her parlor.

The Vaudeville committee are very greatly indebted to Norman Bermender. He was "right there" with assistance and advice, and worked hard to make the Carnival a success.

Mrs. Gene Merrill was a liberal contributor to the Japanese tea room this year, as she was last year. She is a loyal supporter of the American Legion.

Mrs. M. M. Pomeroy worked untiringly for the Vaudevill. She displayed great patience and cheerfulness at rehearsals, and the success of the program was greatly advanced by her efforts.

Miss Ruth Walker was there to help as she always is, as a graceful instructor of the dance.

Smethport is, and should be proud of the Traveler's club sextette—Their sweet voices are much appreciated by the public.

Mr. John Cather was there with his make up box and valuable help.

Sidney Burdick, as pianist has a reputation all over the county; Sid carries you right along, when he is on the job, we don't need an orchestra. Many thanks to Sid.

Mrs. Wells, chairman of the vaudeville committee was heard to remark, "Just make out a program and assign the parts—and the talented young people of Smethport will get in line, and success is assured."

As chairman of the vaudeville committee, I want to thank all most heartily for their cooperation, space forbids mentioning all who cheerfully aided to make the program a success.

Mrs. H. C. Wells, Chairman.

Mrs. Hannah A. Wares.

Mrs Hannah A. Wares, of Rew City, was buried at that place on Monday afternoon. She was aged 76. She is survived by her sister, Mrs. J. N. Knapp of this place, and the several other brothers and sisters.

Both gentlemen made suitable response.

A VISIT HOME.

On Sunday morning Mrs. Mary Caldwell was much surprised by a visit from her daughter, Mrs. Ona May Warner, and son Harold both of Salamanca. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Warner who drove them over in their car.

During the afternoon a number of Smethport people called which added to the festivities of the occasion.

There is a greater demand for the motorcycle in Gretat Britain than for any other type of motorvehicle.

JUDGE BOUTON SUSTAINED.

The State Supreme Court that finished its May session at Harrisburg on Thursday handed down an opinion affirming the decision of the Quarters Sessions Court of Warren county in the tax collector election contest. It will be remembered that this was an appeal taken by friends of Miss Mary Olive King, the Democratic candidate for tax collector, from the decision of judge Bouton of this county, sitting for Judge Arird, in Quarter Sessions court of Warren county. Irregularities were alleged in a petition to have certain ballot boxes opened, but Judge Bouton ruled that the averments in the petition were not sufficient to warrant the court in ordering the ballot boxes of the Fifth and Third wards to be opened for the purpose of having a recount.

B. T. Downey who lives about a mile east of town had a peculiar accident Tuesday evening about 5:30. Mr. Downey had backed his car out of the yard, and had stopped for a moment before going to the lower barn to care for some stock, when Star Sheldon of Ormsby, coming from the direction of Bradford tried to pass him, and the wheels of the cars locked together. Mr. Sheldon received a broken fender, and a broken spring, and Mr. Downey a broken wheel. There were two women and two men in the Sheldon car, but no one was injured.

MRS WM. BECKER INJURED BY AN AUTOMOBILE.

Mrs. Wm. Becker of East Main street was seriously injured Friday evening between six and seven o'clock when she was struck by W. S. Palmer's automobile.

Mrs. Becker and her small sons, Mrs. Nettie Pierce, Mart Heinlein and son Fred had been to Port Allegany after plants. Upon reaching home, Mrs. Pierce got out of the car to ask Mr. Pierce to help carry in the plants. Mrs. Becker stepped out of the car and her small daughter started to meet her. Mrs. Becker saw the Palmer car approaching and ordered the child back, which order the child obeyed, but the mother evidently dazed, sprang from behind another car which was standing in front of the house directly in front of the Palmer car, and was hurled against one of the auto lights, breaking it, and bending the support to one side. The two wheels of the car ran over her.

Mr. Palmer quickly brought his car to a standstill and the injured woman was carried into the home, where both Dr Hamilton and Dr. W. A. Ostrander cared for her injuries. It was found that she had a broken right leg, broken arm and several bruises.

The family moved here Monday from Shinglehouse, the father expects to work in the Window glass factory as flattener. It is a very sad case, as there are five small children, the two youngest being twins nineteen months of age.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON

Last Sunday evening Rev. Arthur Gregson of the First Methodist Episcopal church delivered the Baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Smethport High School.

None who heard the able sermon and took the lessons to heart but will be better men and better women by reason of it.

The graduating class consisted of twenty-one members. The large audience room was filled with the friends of the graduates and those who were interested in the occasion.

POWDER MILL DESTROYED.

The plant of the Grasselli Powder Co. located at Wyland, about one and one half miles east of Sinnamahoney was almost totally destroyer by an explosion last Friday forenoon.

Eight of the men employed in the factory met instant death, while two others were badly injured. The origin of the explosion is unknown.

Four large store houses, filled mainly with dynamite and several smaller buildings of the plant were wrecked by the blast. The damage is estimated at $100,000.

The men killed and injured in the blast were all Americans and men well known and respected in that part of the country, where many people are engaged in the manufacture of high explosives.

A COMING STAR.

Jiggs Walker, a seventeen year old twirler is playing this year with the Olympics of Bradford and on Saturday beat the Ariels of Jamestown by a score of 6 to 3. The Era of Bradford says of him:

"The Olympics trotted out a pitching find in Jiggs Walker, a seventeen year old hurler who hails from Smethport. Walker turned in one of the finest games ever played on the local diamond and had his opponents literally eating out of his hand during the entire game. His southpaw slants were a complete puzzle, and he had excellent control, a fine change of pace and a wicked breaking curve that was a delight to see. He only allowed four hits, two of these coming in the last inning, struck out 12 men including the first six to face him.

Green Olive Relish

The recipes of dietitians who can compose novel foods are in great demand, for every hostess delights in placing an unusual dish before her guests. Here is one of the most tasteful relishes of the 1922 compositions. The saltiness of the green olives blends with the cabbage, celery and beets in a manner that can be appreciated only by sampling:

One cup stoned Spanish green olives (chopped), one cup chopped young cabbage, one-half cup celery cut in rings, one-half cup finely diced cold boiled beets, one-half cup French dressing, one-quarter cup sugar, one tablespoonful mixed salt, pepper and paprika. Mix these ingredients, chill, and serve with meat course. This relish may be prepared in twenty minutes and will serve seven or eight.

SPRAY SPREADERS?

To make spraying efforts more effective "spreaders" are being added to the spray mixtures. The last ten per cent of efficiency in covering the fruit and foliage often counts more for control purposes than the ordinary ninety per cent application usually given. What appears to be the best spreaders are preparation of casein, these are coming into prominence rapidly, particularly on the Pacific Coast, and it is hoped that there will be abundant evidence before the season is over that they are also valuable asset in Pennsylvania orchards. While definite data is being gathered on their effectiveness, if there are those who would like to experiment with these materials the Bureau of Plant Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, Harrisburg will send suggestions along that line to those who apply for it.

THE MODERN WAYS.

Blinkums needs a new motor car. The old bus is about gone. It rattles in the transmission and thumps in the rear. The engine pumps oil like a gusher. The valve taps sound like a battle of snare drums. The top is as handsome as an umbrella, and he has stopped risking bumps with his tires.

The mortgage is overdue on the house, which needs a new roof, and the company is doing pretty slow on sales this year. His wife is wearing last year's clothes and his own suit has long forgotten the feel of a nap. They are eating storage eggs and buying butter seconds because the grocery bill is something fierce.

But Mr. Blinkums needs a new car, and this prophet lays four to one he gets it.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

OYSTER DRESSING MIXTURE

An oyster dressing is made by adding to a highly seasoned bread stuffing, oysters equal in bulk to the breadcrumbs. Mix thoroughly one quart of soft breadcrumbs, a cupful of butter melted in two-thirds cupful hot milk or water, one-half teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful of spiced poultry seasoning, and a beaten egg. Omit the egg if the dressing is to be eaten hot. A cold dressing slices well when the egg is used. Add oysters and stuff the turkey. As long cooking detracts from the flavor of oysters many cooks prefer scalloped oysters served with turkey.

HOGS FORAGE

It is high time for the hog man to be putting in crops for summer forage. Dwarf Essex rape sown now at the rate of eight to ten pounds per acre will make excellent forage for spring pigs by the middle of June.

TROUT FISHING.

The streams emptying into Potato Creek in the neighborhood of Norwich and Colegrove have furnished some excellent fishing this year and some very nice catches are reported, in the face of the fact that the weather has been cold almost all the time and there has been but few days of "good fishing weather."

Monts Creek turned out a number of fine catches, but like all the other streams, is now pretty well fished out.

Probably the best catch of the season was that of Frank Kelly, who caught seventeen speckled beauties, all over six inches long and several were much above that.

The state reservation is now posted and fishing is prohibited. This reservation, or preserve, covers the heads of the streams and will have a tendency to keep the supply of trout in the future and the streams will furnish good fishing without re-stocking.

SAGER GLASS FACTORY.

The Sager Glass Co., at Betula has now started up building operations and will prosecute the same with due diligence. The laying of brick will be commenced in a few days, and the opening of the plant is now a question of but a short time.

Orders are already booked to be filled as soon as possible, and Messrs Sagers are to be congratulated on the success which now seems assured and the town on the addition to population which the opening of the plant will necessarily bring.

RETURN FROM HOSPITAL.

After an absence of some time at the Mountain Clinic, our old time friend C. A. Anderson of Colegrove is expected to return to his home this week, much improved in his general health.

Mr. Anderson has seen many changes in living conditions during his long and successful life and has always maintained good health, this being his first sickness of any consequence, and it naturally would be a little hard on that rugged frame, and his neighbors and friends are exceedingly glad that he will now be with them again.

IMPROVED PROCESS.

The Keystone Woods Products Co., with a plant at Betula is making some changes and improvements in the plant, which will lessen the expense of manufacture of chemical products in that it does away with the use of lime, and also renders the products more valuable. The change in methods of separation seem to be the improvements mentioned, and the change in machinery is now being made.

NORWICH CHEMICAL CO. RESUMES OPERATIONS.

After being closed down for the past three years the Norwich Chemical Company is now starting up again with contracts which will keep them running for about three months. This is very welcome news for the people of the town, some of whom were workers in the plant and in procuring the raw materials from which the products are derived.

ERECTING A HOUSE.

The Northern Pipe line company is erecting a very commodious house for Superintendent James McCurdy at Colegrove. The building is not only commodious but will contain all modern conveniences and comforts.

ERECTING A FENCE.

The Colegrove Brook Cattle Company, located at Colegrove are driving posts and erecting a fence around their property to restrain the roaming of the cattle on the property of their neighbors. It is not a spite fence as its appearance might indicate, but is built high to prevent a stampede of cattle. The fence is now completed on the west side of the Heinemann estate, and work is now going on on the north side.

The few days of nice weather have had a wonderful effect on the roads in this locality and now there is some pleasure in driving over the country. The roads in several townships have been worked, and are now in good condition.

For Ten Dollars and Ninety Cents—This 30 x 3½ Usco

THE 30 x 3½ tire situation today is just this—

The man who buys an USCO at $10.90 is justified in believing that his money is going farther in tire value than it ever has gone or could go before.

Naturally he appreciates the quality of USCO. That was established long ago.

It is still fresh in his mind that USCO led the national market into the $10.90 price range.

The makers of U.S. Tires always intended the 30 x 3½ USCO to be the highest value in its field.

At $10.90 it creates a new classification of money's worth.

CARNIVAL.

The carnival given last Thursday and Friday evening under the direction of the Bucktail Post American Legion was a great success, both from an artistic and financial standpoint. The songs and dances which made up the vaudeville program under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Wells were very well executed. Smethport has a number of graceful dancers and fine singers who are always ready to use their talent to aid a worthy cause.

Thursday, May 25th.

Mrs. H. C. Wells deserves a great deal of praise for the capable manner in which she directed the Vaudeville entertainments.

LEGION MEDAL AWARDED.

Following the plan of School awards adopted by American Legion at the State Convention of the Legion in Pittsburgh last September, a bronze medal is to be awarded each year to the boy graduate from the eighth grade, who shall possess certain characteristics. There must be at least ten boys eligible for selection, and the award is made on this basis:

1. His scholastic attainments, 30 per cent.

2. His fondness for and success in sports 20 per cent.

3. His qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindliness, usefulness and fellowship, 30 per cent.

4. His exhibition of moral force of character and his instincts to lead and take an interest in his school mates, 20 per cent.

can Legion The medals

The medals offered by Bucktail Post American Legion goes this year to Bernard Garlick, eldest son of Mr and Mrs. Bernard Garlick, and will be presented at the Commencement Exercises, Friday evening.

MRS. CAROLINE PATTISON.

Mrs. Caroline Patterson of Hazelhurst died Wednesday, May 31st at 10:30 a. m. of a lingering illness.

Mrs. Pattison was seventy-six years of age, her birthday being last week.

She was a highly respected citizen of Hazelhurst who leaves a great many warm friends.

The surviving relatives are: Mrs. Mary Terry, and Eben Pattison, of Smethport, Mrs. R. Ray and Edwin Pattison of Hazelhurst. Also four grandchildren, Mrs. Russell Hungerford, Misses Beatrice and Helen Terry and Emmit Terry of Smethport.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at ten o'clock at the family residence, Rev. W. E. VanDyke of Smethport officiating.

Thirty states are offering employment to some 200,000 men, during the next six months, on road construction.

WARREN-HAYES.

Miss Marion Warren, oldest daughter of Mrs. Edna Warren of this place was united in marriage to Nathan Hayes of Reno, Nevada, May 15th, 1922.

Miss Warren is one of Smethport's most popular girls, she attended the Smethport high school, and later did millinery work with Mrs. Carrie Clark. She has been in the west for three years where she has held a splendid position as a millinery trimmer in both San Francisco and Salt Lake City.

Dr. Hayes is a capable young dentist of Reno, Nevada.

The young couple will be at home at 238 University Avenue, Reno, Nevada after June 1st.

CLASS DAY PROGRAM.

Today at 2:00 o'clock the Graduating Class of the Smethport High School will render a program well fitted to their attainments. It will be recollected, just here, that a few years ago, classes were graduated at a much lower standard than now, in fact many colleges had a curriculum but little advanced over the present Smethport High School.

The program for this afternoon follows:

Address of Welcome, —Howard Strong, President.

The Thrush,—Quartet.

THE CARNIVAL.

The Carnival which was held here on Thursday and Friday of last week was the event of the season, and the American Legion boys certainly did themselves proud and worked themselves out of the hole and are now obligated bondholders, or belong to the easy street bunch. There was $400 of indebtedness hanging over them by reason of the failure of the lecture course to pay expenses, and this has been cleared up and leaves a balance in the treasury.

Democratic National Chairman Hull, and others of this persuasion see in the gubernatorial nomination in Pennsylvania another "rebuke" of the national administration. The embarrassing thing about the Republican voters after "rebuking" their administration in the primaries will be in position to devote their undivided attention to rebuking the Democratic party against the election in November!

In the Tire Business.

STORAGE is a big factor in profitable marketing and economical buying. Like most worth while things it works both ways. For the farmer or the man in town a vegetable and fruit cellar is a real economy.

A concrete root cellar properly made, vermin-proof, water-proof and permanent, will soon pay for itself in more ways than one.

Your dealer can give you plans to construct a small one, or your local contractor can quickly build it for you. Either one is apt to suggest you use Atlas Portland Cement, "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."

APPROVE THE PURCHASE OF PARK LANDS.

Government Approves of Buying 57,000 Acres; Including 3,000 Acres in McKean County.

Approves of the purchase of 74,000 acres within the Allegany Purchase Unit by the National Forest Reservation Commission assures the establishment of the Allegany National Forest in northern Pennsylvania. At a meeting of the commission in Washington, favorable action was taken looking toward the purchase of 74,000 acres of land by the federal government in northern Pennsylvania. The following counties are represented: Elk, 29,000 acres, Forest, 27,000 acres, Warren 1,000 acres, McKean 3,000 acres. The average price at which the land has been approved for purchase and which has been agreed upon by the venders, is $2.73 per acre. Lands offered for sale by twenty five different companies or individuals make up the total. In practically all instances land has been stripped of merchantable forest products, but the presence of young growth assures a future forest crop.

The lands being acquired on the Allegany Purchase Unit by the federal government are in nearly every case subject to oil, gas and mineral [illegible] ading. This is in line with the Forest Service policy of in no way interfering with the carrying on of industries within the national forest. The conditions under which the underground resources may be prospected for and developed on government lands are altogether reasonable and it is believed that government ownership of the surface will enhance the value of the mineral interests.

The start which has been made toward the Allegany National Forest by the approval of 74,000 acres for purchase as initial authorization is very encouraging and it is believed that the work can be carried steadily forward. Funds for making additional purchases will become available on July first and already other lands have been offered for sale.

Through the assurance of the Allegheny National Forest great impetus is given to the movement looking toward the construction of the Allegheny Highway. In order that the forest may serve its highest purpose the highways will become absolutely necessary. The Federal Forest Service is very much interested in and appreciative of the work of the Allegany Highway Association, which association has been an able champion not only of the highway, but of the National Forest. Now that the forest is assured, every effort should be put forth to the end that the highway early become a reality.

CARRIED 19 BILLION MESSAGES LAST YEAR

Communications Sent Annually by Telephone Would Require 6,000,000 Messengers

The total distance covered by these nineteen billion messages was over forty-two billion miles. Assuming that equally satisfactory results could be obtained were these messages to be carried by special messengers, it is interesting to estimate the physical magnitude of the task involved. Assuming that each messenger works nine hours per day and averages ten miles per hour, it would require 6,000,000 messengers and, at a conservative estimate, would cost ten billion dollars to handle this business which the telephone handles at a cost of about $600,000,000 and with 200,000 employees.

Forty-six years ago there was one telephone in the world—the instrument which Bell invented. Today there is in the United States one telephone for every eight persons.

Forty-six years ago there were two telephone employees, Bell and his assistant. Today there are 200,000.

Forty-six years ago the world's entire telephone plant could have been held in one man's hand. Today, in this country alone, there are, among other items, 14,000,000 instruments, upwards of 21,000 central offices, and 34,000,000 miles of wire, the whole telephone plant showing a book cost of more than $2,000,000,000.

PREDICT GROWTH OF CITIES YEARS AHEAD

Telephone Engineers Draw Veil From Future in Planning Plant Additions

There is scarcely a field of scientific thought which telephone engineering does not touch. Economy in the layout of new plant additions, for example, requires that the future demand for service, not only one year ahead, but five, ten and even twenty, be forecast with a high degree of accuracy.

The engineers must foresee whether a particular district of a city is destined to become an office area or an apartment house area or a factory area, and in each case how great its demand for telephones will be. They must also predict for each city as a whole and for larger territories. They therefore study the geology of our natural resources from which to estimate the future location of basic industries.

They study geography to learn the probable location of new routes of transportation and the concentration of population along them. They study general economic and business conditions to know how rapidly growth in each industry is likely to occur. They study particular industries since frequently the activities of a city or a small geographical division center so closely around one industry that their futures are inseparable. The automobile and oil industries both furnish illustrations in point.

The telephone engineers even dip into psychology and the development of social customs so that they may foresee the future telephone demand of each class of people.

The Deal Beach Radio Station

By R. T. BARRETT.

"Please take this story and turn it in to the night editor!"

A reporter of a New York newspaper was talking over the telephone with another member of the staff. He reported that a number of American volunteers, who had served in the Spanish army in the campaign against the Moors, were returning aboard the U. S. Shipping Board's liner America.

In all of which, except in one particular, there was nothing extraordinary. Since the invention of the telephone, forty-five years ago, some thousands of newspapermen have gone through exactly the same operation. Many a "scoop," many an exclusive story which has startled the newspaper world, has found its way into print as a result of just such a telephone call.

But this telephone call was different. For the reporter in question was himself aboard the steamship America, and the brief paragraph he dictated was the first newspaper dispatch ever transmitted from ship to shore by means of the radio telephone. The man with whom he talked was one of a number of newspapermen who had been invited to "listen in" on a demonstration arranged by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, in cooperation with the Radio Corporation of America and the General Electric Company, as a test of the possibilities of supplementing the ordinary telephone wire service with radio service to ships at sea.

The transmission of the news dispatch, as well as the other conversations which made up the demonstration, was a complete success, but the resulting publication of the item could hardly be described as an "exclusive" story. Thousands of wireless enthusiasts "tuned in" while the demonstration was being held, and for several days the radio station of the telephone company was flooded with letters, [illegible] and [illegible], some of them from points as remote as Chicago and Hamilton, Ont., declaring that they had heard the conversation from beginning to end over their receiving sets.

So long as the conversations were confined to the wires they were, of course, as secret as any telephone message. But the moment the electrical waves of radio began to leap across the 370 miles of space which separated ship and shore, they became the property of every receiving set owner within hundreds of miles, merely for the turning of a knob.

One of the interesting features of the demonstration was a talk between H. B. Thayer, president of the telephone company, and Captain William Rind, of the America. Mr. Thayer spoke from his country home in New Canaan, Conn., some fifty miles northeast of New York. The accompanying diagram shows how the circuits were arranged for the demonstration. Two separate stations were used on the Jersey coast, Deal Beach, near Asbury Park—being the sending station and Elberon being the receiving station. From shore to ship a wave length of 380 meters was used, while from ship to shore the sending was done on a wave length of 420 meters. The wire circuits ran through the Walker-Lispenard Building, in which are located the operating and test rooms for all long distance telephone lines entering New York. The wire circuit was operated on the four-wire principle between Walker Street and the radio stations and on a two-wire basis between Walker Street and New Canaan. A hybrid coil and balancing network, such as form an essential part of all telephone repeaters, established the union between the two-wire and four-wire circuits.

For the engineers of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company experimentation in wireless telephony is no new departure. The development of the art of speech transmission is their business and they early recognized the wireless [illegible] as one of the important factors in its development. As early as 1915 they [illegible] fully transmitted speech by means of radio apparatus from Arlington, Va., to Mare Island, Cal., and to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, [illegible]. Study and experiment in the field of radio telephony have been continued ever since by the company's Department of Development and Research, the adaptation of the wireless telephone to use in airplanes during the war being one of the most interesting results attained.
